

Relationships

My family members are always supportive and helpful, kind and generous, grateful and useful.

My family members are always kind and considerate of my feelings in all things and I am always kind and considerate of the feelings of others.

I am equal with the people in my life.

I am a free and equal human being.

I have the moral right and duty to give my view of things connected with me, mine and our lives.

My view is significant, desirable, and important in my life and affairs.

God protects me as I speak the truth in soberness.

I am brave enough, strong enough, and intelligent enough to speak my truth.

I follow the promptings of God and I am always blessed and protected as I do so.

God is the righteous judge of the thoughts and intents of the heart.

I love God and I love all of God's children.

All that I think, feel, do or say is done to myself.

All my relationships are supportive, kind and beneficial.

The people in my life take responsibility for their own actions.

I respect and protect others, therefore I am respected and protected.

From now on I always feel loved and supported.

I am loved and respected publicly and privately.

My life is always full of great things and great people.

I am well-respected in my community.

People are always happy to hear the truth from me.

I love the truth and the people around me also love the truth.

Every person is a golden link in the chain of my good.

Everything and everyone works together for my highest good.
